This bulletin-cum-brochure, written both in Hindi and English, describes various mechanical and vegetative measures, based on integrated watershed management principles, adopted by a team of scientists of CSWCRTI, Dehradun for rehabilitation and restoration of an abandoned mine area (Khairawan-Dhandaula watershed) at Sahastradhara in the Mussoorie hills. The publication contains a number of photographs depicting transformation of a devastated mine watershed regaining bit-by-bit its lost topography, hydrologic character and greenery.
