

- 1233. Mittal, S.P. and Dhruva Narayana, V.V. 1989. In Himachal Pradesh water management increases crop yields. Indian Fmg., XXXIX(9):14-15 and 19.

The article describes the success achieved in an ORP executed at two villages namely Behdala and Chattara located at the foothills of Shiwaliks in Himachal Pradesh on the basis of watershed management. The main components of the ORP which include water resource development and its recycling, rehabilitation of denuded hills, soil and water conservation works, crop improvement and involvement of local people have been elaborated with the support of data.