

- 1304. Verma, B., Singh, B., Saraf, N.H. and Monappa, K. 1969. Suitability and economics of grasses for reclamation and stabilisation of Mahi ravines in Gujarat. Indian For., 95(1): 33-44.

Role of grasses in stabilisation of contour and peripheral bunds has been discussed. The grasses play an important role in checking deep gullies where reclamation is very costly as well as difficult. The grass plantations in such areas keep widening and deepening of the gullies under control. Besides these soil conservation aspects, grasses also provide economic returns for fodder and other uses.