Portal for accreditation of Higher Agricultural Educational Institutions (HAEIs) has been developed for HAEIs in India to apply online for ICAR accreditation under the National Agricultural Higher Education Project (Govt. of India and World Bank) and it is hosted in ICAR Data Centre (ICAR-DC) at ICAR-IASRI, New Delhi.

Both Government and Private Agricultural Universities/Colleges (HAEIs) can apply for online accreditation by submitting Letter of Intent (LoI) along with Institutional Eligibility for Accreditation (IEA) and Statement of Compliance (SoC) to the National Agricultural Education Accreditation Board (NAEAB) Secretariat.

After acceptance of LoI, IEA and SoC, HAEI shall submit Self Study Report (SSR) to the respective Regional Centre of the NAEAB through this portal. Regional Centre of the NAEAB shall examine the SSR submitted in portal online and ensure that SSR meets the requirement of the NAEAB guidelines.

All the stakeholders in the accreditation system shall use this portal in a specified workflow. This online system will make the ICAR accreditation process more transparent, accountable and shall reduce time and requirement for physical file movements.

1. University Registrar shall register in the portal by providing details.

   ![Registration form]

2. Login credentials for the Registrar of the degree awarding university are created.

3. Accreditation for University/College/Program is applied by the user in the portal.

4. Letter of Intent, Institutional Eligibility for Accreditation and Statement of Compliance are filled by registered user step by step to initiate the application for accreditation.
Once applied by university, application for accreditation is received at NAEAB Secretariat in the account of Coordinator (Accreditation). DDG (Agricultural Education) shall be the final approving authority. If documents are in order, a requesting letter for submitting Self Study Report (SSR), generated through portal, is also sent by Coordinator (Accreditation) to the university online. If some clarifications are required, Secretariat will send note to Registrar for clarification.

The HAEI shall submit SSR to the respective Regional Centre of the NAEAB through this portal. Regional Centre examines the SSR and ensures that SSR meets the requirement of the NAEAB guidelines. In case some improvement is required, the report is modified by the University and resubmitted to the Regional Centre Online.
